FOLEY LOGISTICS CAPABILITY STATEMENT

Professional Excellence & Strategic Solutions

Company Overview

Foley Logistics Pty Ltd ACN 678 819 504 is a transport and logistics operator focused on delivering dependable, responsive and commercially practical freight solutions for business and government clients.

We are proud to be one of Australia's fastest-growing providers of crane truck hire and transport logistics services, headquartered on the Gold Coast, Queensland. Our operations extend to SEQ, Brisbane, Sunshine Coast and Northern NSW, delivering dependable freight and lifting solutions tailored to meet the diverse needs of businesses across all industries.

Core Competencies

Foley Logistics is equipped to support clients who require more than a basic freight provider. The business is developing its market position to compete for larger contracts and longer-term service arrangements by offering a reliable operational platform, responsive management and a professional client interface.

Capability areas include:

- servicing recurring delivery programs;
- supporting larger contract or tender-based opportunities;
- adapting to client-specific delivery windows and service levels;
- coordinating transport requirements across multiple sites or locations;
- maintaining clear communication and accountability throughout delivery; and
- presenting professionally in tender, procurement and contractor engagement processes.

This capability statement is intended to demonstrate Foley Logistics' readiness to work with larger operators, corporate customers, principal contractors and procurement teams seeking a capable transport partner.

Key Differentiators

STRATEGIC APPROACH

Methodology focused on precision and timing.

CLIENT-CENTRIC

Bespoke solutions and direct communication.

Past Performance

End-to-end logistics and lifting solutions, delivering safe, efficient and reliable transport services for projects ranging from single deliveries to large-scale commercial operations.

Products and services

Foley Logistics provides transport and logistics services tailored to client requirements, delivery schedules and site conditions.

Our Services include:

- General freight transport;
- Dedicated transport solutions;
- Contract logistics support;
- Time-critical and scheduled deliveries;
- Metropolitan and regional freight movements;
- Project-based transport services;
- B2B delivery solutions; and
- Tailored transport arrangements for commercial and industrial clients.

Where required, services can be structured to align with client-specific reporting, scheduling, compliance and communication requirements.

Industry and Clients Supported

Foley Logistics supports clients operating across commercial and industrial sectors where dependable transport and logistics performance is critical.

Relevant sectors may include:

- manufacturing;
- retail and wholesale distribution;
- construction and infrastructure support;
- industrial supply chains;
- commercial warehousing and distribution;
- project-based procurement and logistics; and
- government and institutional supply requirements.

This cross-sector capability allows Foley Logistics to adapt its service model to varying freight profiles, timing requirements, delivery protocols and site conditions.

Fleet, Equipment and Coverage

Foley Logistics maintains a diverse fleet and operational footprint capable of supporting a wide range of commercial transport requirements. The business operates a fleet of approximately 30 vehicles, including courier vehicles, flatbeds, crane trucks and semi-crane vehicles, enabling it to service both smaller consignments and larger, more complex freight tasks.

Foley Logistics is capable of transporting loads from 1kg up to 35 tonnes and can accommodate a broad range of freight profiles, with a particular focus on B2B transport and logistics services. The business also provides specialised handling capability for delicate or sensitive freight requiring additional care.

Operationally, Foley Logistics works from bases located at Sunshine Coast, Bokarina, Burleigh Heads and Biggera Waters, supporting metropolitan and regional service coverage across key Queensland markets. To support service visibility and client reporting, Foley Logistics uses systems that provide live updates, photographic records and delivery coordinates as part of its delivery and proof-of-delivery processes.

Why Foley Logistics

Foley Logistics' value proposition is built on practical service delivery, reliability and an understanding that transport performance reflects directly on the client's business.

Our clients choose Foley Logistics for:

1. Reliability

Consistent delivery performance and a service commitment aligned with client expectations.

2. Responsiveness

Fast, practical communication and a willingness to adapt to changing operational requirements.

3. Professionalism

A business approach suited to tender work, commercial engagements and larger-scale contracts.

4. Flexibility

Solutions tailored to the freight task, timing requirements and operational environment.

5. Scalability

A platform capable of supporting growth, repeat work and more complex logistics requirements over time.

6. Client-Focused Delivery

An emphasis on outcomes, service quality and maintaining strong working relationships.

Systems and Standards

Foley Logistics understands that larger clients often require structured service delivery and clear visibility over transport performance.

If required, Foley Logistics can support:

- delivery scheduling and service coordination;
- proof of delivery and record keeping;
- issue escalation and resolution;
- client communication protocols;
- service review discussions; and
- alignment with procurement, contractor management or site access processes.

Safety and Compliance

Foley Logistics recognises that safety, compliance and operational discipline are central to any credible transport offering, particularly where the business is seeking to engage with larger contractors and sophisticated procurement environments.

Foley Logistics operates with a strong focus on safety, compliance and accountability. We comply with the Heavy Vehicle National Law and maintain Chain of Responsibility awareness as part of our operational and risk management framework.

The business is committed to maintaining systems and practices that support:

- ✓ safe transport operations;
- ✓ lawful and compliant service delivery;
- ✓ professional driver and contractor conduct;
- ✓ site-specific and client-specific safety requirements;
- ✓ risk-aware operational planning; and
- ✓ continuous improvement in service and compliance standards.

Compliance commitments include:

- ✓ Chain of Responsibility awareness and compliance;
- ✓ Workplace health and safety obligations;
- ✓ Vehicle maintenance and roadworthiness controls;
- ✓ Driver competency and operational procedures;

- ✓ Incident reporting and corrective action processes; and
- ✓ Client site induction and access compliance.

Management and Operations

Foley Logistics adopts a practical and accountable approach to service delivery. The operational model is centred on:

- understanding the client's delivery requirements;
- planning around timing, freight type and destination;
- maintaining communication before, during and after delivery;
- responding quickly to changes or issues in transit; and
- delivering a consistent, professional service standard.

For larger engagements, Foley Logistics can align its operations with broader contractor, procurement or project delivery frameworks, including:

- scheduled service windows;
- reporting and delivery records;
- escalation pathways;
- service performance monitoring; and
- coordination with client personnel and site contacts.

Experience and Project Capability

Foley Logistics has experience delivering transport services in environments where reliability, communication and operational responsiveness are essential. The business is focused on building and presenting a track record that supports larger-scale opportunities, repeat contract work and long-term client relationships.

Project / Client: Chevron One Residences, Surfers Paradise, QLD.

Scope: Ongoing transport and logistics support for a large-scale high-rise residential construction project, including crane truck operations, flatbed transport, semi-crane deliveries, pallet management and coordinated delivery scheduling aligned with site requirements.

Services Provided: Crane truck operations for on-site lifting and material placement; flatbed transport for general freight and construction materials; semi-crane truck deliveries for larger and oversized loads; coordinated delivery scheduling; pallet collection and removal; pallet redistribution between suppliers and site zones; transport and off-site storage of pallet stock; and disposal and recycling coordination of damaged or surplus pallets.

Outcome: Successful delivery of reliable and structured transport and logistics support within a live, high-demand construction environment, including facilitation of 40+ pallet-related transport movements and handling of 1,500+ pallets across delivery, redistribution, storage and removal while maintaining coordination with site teams, suppliers and delivery schedules.

Key Personnel

Foley Logistics is led by personnel with practical experience in transport operations, client service and delivery coordination. The business places value on direct communication, accountability and hands-on management.

Hayden Foley (Founder)

Managing Director

Starting with just one truck and a passion for the transport and crane truck industry, the founder and CEO of Foley Logistics has grown the company into a trusted, state-wide provider servicing major corporations across Australia.

An entrepreneur since the age of 19, he discovered his true calling in the transport industry at 23 and established Foley Logistics on the Gold Coast, where he continues to lead the business today. His journey reflects persistence, innovation, and a drive to build a lasting legacy in the logistics sector.

Under his leadership, Foley Logistics has become known for its reliability, safety, and professionalism, backed by a brand-new modern fleet and a highly trained team. He leads by example, focusing on teamwork, accountability, and strong communication to maintain a culture where every team member takes pride in their work.

“We embed our core values into every part of the business – from driver training and safety standards to customer service and fleet management. As we grow, we remain committed to reliability, safety, and integrity in everything we do.”

With a clear long-term vision and commitment to excellence, he continues to guide Foley Logistics toward new opportunities, strategic partnerships, and a future that redefines transport standards across Australia.

Competitive Positioning

Foley Logistics is positioned as a capable and dependable operator for clients seeking a long-term transport partner able to deliver continuity of service, operational accountability and scalable logistics support.

The business offers a commercially credible platform built on:

- consistent and reliable delivery performance;
- responsive client service and communication;
- practical transport and logistics capability across varied freight requirements;
- preparedness for tender, contract and managed service engagements; and
- the operational capacity to support growth, transition and long-term service integration.

This positioning makes Foley Logistics well suited to organisations looking to appoint a transport provider that can embed into their supply chain, support ongoing operational demands and deliver a stable long-term logistics solution.

Commitment to Client Outcomes

Foley Logistics recognises that clients require more than freight movement alone. They require a logistics partner that protects timelines, supports operational continuity and represents their business professionally.

The business is committed to:

- understanding each client's operational priorities;
- delivering to agreed service expectations;
- maintaining professionalism at all customer touchpoints;
- identifying practical solutions where challenges arise; and
- supporting long-term commercial relationships.

Closing Statement

Foley Logistics offers a dependable and professional transport service for clients seeking a logistics partner capable of supporting day-to-day operations, contract delivery requirements and future growth.

The business welcomes opportunities to support commercial, industrial and project-based transport requirements across Queensland and other service areas as required.
